A SUNDAY.

The management of the Old Colony railway would satisfy a popular demand by running a Sunday morning train this summer from Plymouth to Boston, returning at night. This would enable many below Cohasset to spend the Sunday at Nantasket beach and enable others all along the road to spend the day in the city.

A SATISFACTORY TOWN MEETING.

At the town meeting held last Monday afternoon much interest was evinced by the voters. The acts of the meeting will have a direct bearing on the future prosperity of Cohasset.

We refer particularly to the continuance of Jerusalem Road and the continuance of the road to the school house. The latter is a matter of importance to the town.

DINING OF THE TOWN.

The call for a town meeting last Monday drew out as large a number as is wont to gather at these extra town meetings.

Under the first article J. Q. A.

Lothrop was chosen Moderator.

Under article and in regard to the new road to be laid out from a point on Jerusalem Road opposite the residence of Chas. Marsh, Esq., to the house of John J. Lothrop, the Selectmen were instructed to appear before the board of County Commissioners in favor of the road, and to request that two years be allowed for building the road.

Under article 3d, it was voted that they be, and they are hereby authorized in the name and on the behalf of this town to make, execute and deliver to M. Fayette Dickinson, Jr., of Boston for the nominal consideration of one dollar that portion of Straits

Pond Flats in the Town of Cohasset partly adjoining the estate formerly owned by Warren Simpson, now owned by said Dickinson partly adjoining the Jerusalem Road, so called, on the northerly side thereof and as far west-ly as the land of Welcome Beal, all as shown on a plan of the granted premises to be granted by the town to said Dickinson, his heirs or assigns.

No building to be erected on the land without permission of the Town of Cohasset. That in the deed to said Dickinson the Selectmen insert restriction, that if at any time any portion of these premises be required by the town for the erection of a town building, such portion may be taken by the town without charge.

MEMORIAL DAY.

His memory Bryant Post 98 G. A. R. began his memorial services on Sunday last when it attended divine service at the First Church and listened to a discussion of the Rev. Jos. Osgood.

Mr. Osgood's text was from the 12th chapter of Exodus, the 14th verse—"And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance forever." Mr. Osgood spoke of the meeting held in the Town Hall at the opening of the war and said that some of those he saw before him were present at that time, others had left their bodies on the battle field or had come home but to die. He gave an account of the Cohasset boys in the Rebellion which awakened many long memories.

On Memorial Day the Past twenty-two members started from Bates' Hall in the barge Marchioness driven by A. W. Drake, and proceeded to the Methodist Church at No. Cohasset where it met the Edwin Humphrey Post 104 of Hingham. The two posts marched to the cemetery and decorated the soldiers' graves there. Here the Rev. Aaron Canoll offered prayer. After partaking of a collation, the Post rode to the Beech-woods cemetery, where the ceremony of decoration was performed and a prayer was offered and address delivered by Rev. Harlan Page. From this point the Post were conveyed back to their hall, where dinner was served, after which they marched to the Cohasset cemetery. Here Mr. Osgood offered prayer and made an address, and a double male quartette gave two selections: "Hushed O'er this Sacred Field of Mounds" and "America." Post Commander Gross thanked all those who had in any way contributed to the success of the day's exercises and the Post returned to their hall for dismissal.

Memorial Day in Scituate.

G. W. Perry Post 21 G. A. R. carried out an excellently arranged and impressive order of Memorial services on Wednesday the 30th, and we give a full and detailed report of the same. The day was one of absolute perfection of weather, which had a tendency to draw out all citizens to witness the ceremonies, and lent an additional inspiration to the brave boys in blue, if that were needed, to perform their part of the programme. They were, in truth, joining with the thousands of grateful living all over our land, in doing honor to the memory of the brave and gallant dead, composed of husbands, fathers, sons, brothers and citizens who loved their country and gave their lives that it might live. These appropriate ceremonies shall live on our historic page to be perpetuated to our children's children in the long ages of the future, when, it is devoutly hoped, will learn well the lessons of the day.

Four large barges, three belonging to Mr. Mitchell, and one to Mr. J. E.

Merritt, were called in requisition to carry the band and members of the Grand Army to the several cemeteries. The "Sea Breeze" drove by four noble iron horses, and driven by Mr. Mitchell, devoted the band, the others conveyed the members of the Grand Army.

Speakers and invited guests.

The procession, under the command of Post Commander A. S. Stevens, moved from Grand Army Hall at 8.30 a. m.

The following was the order of procession in marching into the cemeteries:—

Edwin Humphrey, Chief Marshal.

North Scituate Band, 20 pieces, Walter F.

Bates, leader.

DIVISION ONE.

In charge of Post Commander O. Whitney Merritt, comprising the speakers of the day and invited guests.

DIVISION TWO.

The directors of the Marshfield agricultural society met at their hall on Friday last to make arrangements for the great horse trial coming off on the fourth of next year. They have appropriated $750 for premiums in trotting, to be divided into three purses, the first trot will come off at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and the two others at 3 and 5 p. m. The best three in heats, win. While the trotters are waiting for the start, the spectators are resting, those who for the other race will be waiting for the start. At 12 o'clock there will be a good farmer's dinner, for which only fifty cents per plate will be charged. Good speakers are also expected, who will make after dinner addresses. The directors are expected to engage the Jubilee singing society, and some other club equally as good to sing on the company out of doors. There will be a grand parade, and the same as at the annual fair, 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children, and 25 cents for a team, for the ladies, and 25 cents for the men, the gate keepers charged 15 cents for each horse, so that an expressman who brought a crowd of people in a large or small party, or a team of more attached had to pay 25 cents for each horse. The directors thought it best to reduce the rate of admission to one horse, or 25 cents for a team, or carriage, whether one horse or more is used. At the same time arrangements will continue as of late years, and this is not the annual cattle show at which members are entitled to free admission, and the officers will be charged the same price as the rest, for this entertainment is added up to clear the society of the debt of the last year's improvements on the track last year. The directors have already been engaged to come, and are now training for that purpose.

tion," being in empty, any high or other thought, was simply laughed at as visionary. Later on he was called a madman. Known for eight years, now, as the "father of the cable car," he is still in the "land of the living," and as a result from France, put in actual practice the "cable car" applied to street railroads. Then came, accordingly introduced a form of the "cable car" to Philadelphia. The "cable car" has taken hold of the nation, and, perforce, and introduced the really efficient system of "cable motor" street railroads in America. The "cable car" will now briefly recall it as quite interesting, and it does not seem to be. First of all, the "cable car" is the "cable railroad" simply and the "cable car," propelled by a "cable car" engine, by a stationary steam engine, located at the end of the line. The practical application of the principle although very simple is quite rare, and as managed in Philadelphia has been a success. The "cable car" is a simple arrangement to put into practice. The track, and also the car, are the same as if horse power were used in the case of the roadway, between the rails, and the "cable car" is a simple, throughout the entire line, and the "cable car" is a simple, and about two feet wide, and perforce,
